

LOUISIANA BAR FOUNDATION FUNDING CIVIL LEGAL AID

YEAR ENDING JUNE 30, 2023

"Equal justice under law is not merely a caption on the facade of the Supreme Court building; it is perhaps the most inspiring ideal of our society...It is fundamental that justice should be the same, in substance and availability, without regard to economic status."

Lewis F. Powell, Jr.
Associate Justice
Supreme Court of the United States

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Alan G. Brackett, 2022 - 23 President

The LBF has been fortunate to have extraordinary leadership over the past three decades and I'm humbled to serve. As the foundation has matured, it's time to take the next steps to ensure its mission is fulfilled, both today and in the future. In the coming year, our Board will be focused on institutional advancement. Raising funds to support the operations of the LBF is critical to ensure that the funds in our care—whether from IOLTA accounts, Children in Need of Care funding, the general appropriation from the legislature, or other sources—can go directly to provide legal services to the tens of thousands of people in need in our state.

Civil legal aid is free legal advice, representation or other legal assistance provided to low-income and vulnerable people who cannot otherwise afford legal help. The number of our citizens facing life changing challenges increases every day. Through no fault of their own, more families find themselves qualifying for civil legal aid. Without civil legal assistance these Louisiana citizens often experience serious consequences, including losing custody of their children, being evicted from their homes, being subject to domestic violence, and struggling to recover from natural disasters.

The LBF remains the trusted authority for and the state's largest funder of civil legal aid. Our decades of experience as a responsible steward of funds, along with our well-established partnerships across all 64 parishes, has allowed us to help hundreds of thousands of Louisiana citizens gain access to the legal system.

As a high poverty state with ever-limited resources, Louisiana's civil justice system has been in crisis for years. The tremendous economic fallout from the pandemic has had a devastating impact on Louisiana's civil legal aid network and drastically increased the number of people who cannot afford legal help.

This year we will work towards increasing grant funding and services in communities statewide. We will strive to expand the delivery of legal representation to civil legal aid clients, supporting the civil legal aid network and our strategic partners, while reducing the LBF administrative cost footprint so more grant funding and services flow into communities statewide.

We are working towards providing support to rural community providers to create access for people living in Civil Legal Resource Deserts. These are high poverty areas where access to free civil legal services is more than a 45-minute drive. Distance, coupled with high poverty rates and a lack of internet access, put these regions at the top of the list in need of access to legal services and resources.

Our Pop Up Tour will start back up in September. LBF leadership will visit each region of our state and highlight civil legal aid, increased client needs, and legal deserts. These events will include our regional Community Partnership Panel chairs, local judicial officers, local grantees, and other local leadership. I hope you'll join us at one of our regional events.

We have strategic partnerships with the Louisiana Supreme Court, the ATJ Commission and we continue to work with the Governor's office and the legislature to improve the delivery of legal representation across the state. To expand LBF's reach, we are working directly with local and specialty bars and other organizations with similar missions and goals as the LBF.

We are working to expand services to those served by civil legal aid organizations by improving data collection, quality assurance and federal reporting with the technical assistance of the Lagniappe Law Lab. Launched with LBF funding, Lagniappe Law Lab continues to excel in creating and improving technology to help deliver civil legal aid.

Our newly established Infinity Fund is designed to provide long term support for LBF operations and meet all the administrative expenses of awarding and monitoring grant awards. This fund will ensure that LBF can meet staffing and operational expenses so that every dollar received for civil legal aid can be granted to our statewide partners and additional services provided for our vulnerable population.

Every day attorneys across this state help Louisiana by helping others. The LBF is the premier public service organization of Louisiana attorneys. Membership in the LBF is a statement of commitment to fairness and equal access to justice for everyone in our state. I hope you will become a part of the LBF. Become a Fellow, join a committee, attend your local Pop-Up event, and support our Infinity Fund. Our work is important to so many people, and while we have an outstanding professional staff, the work of the LBF requires the support and efforts of members of the bar.

STORIES OF JUSTICE

By channeling financial contributions, the Louisiana Bar Foundation (LBF) plays a pivotal role in bolstering civil legal aid programs across Louisiana, particularly those dedicated to domestic violence prevention initiatives. Given the sensitive nature of domestic violence incidents, timely assistance is paramount. Creating a safe and supportive environment often begins with the immediate provision of aid, such as facilitating a necessary separation between a victim and their abuser. Your financial gifts contribute significantly to this critical first step toward ensuring the safety and well-being of those affected.

Ann was found hiding from her abuser in an abandoned house with no utilities. She contacted one of the Louisiana Bar Foundation's Community Partners for help. Local law enforcement and our Pro Bono Partners were able to locate a temporary safe shelter for Ann. However, due to Ann's multiple disabilities and not meeting the age requirement for senior citizen facilities, she had tremendous difficulty in finding housing.

Besides the emotional and physical toll of her abuser's cruelty (which left Ann with sustaining injuries from incidents such as being pushed out of a moving car), Ann was also facing legal repercussions from her divorce. The abuser had purposefully stalled the divorce proceedings by giving our Pro Bono Attorney Partners incorrect information as well as filing for the divorce through different parishes. The attorneys were able to file a motion to have a Curator appointed so that the divorce could be finalized.

As our partners worked hard to provide Ann with an apartment, they faced more challenges as her abuser stalked and sent death threats to Ann. Immediately, our partners arranged for her to be transported to a nearby shelter for safety. Once it was safe to return, Ann moved into her apartment. By this point, her abuser had moved out of state. Our Pro Bono partners got Ann the divorce she needed, and Ann was finally able to achieve her housing and legal protections.

YOUR CONTRIBUTIONS AT WORK

KIDS' CHANCE SCHOLARSHIP PROGRAM

The LBF Kids' Chance Scholarship Program is the state chapter of a national organization that awards scholarships to the children of Louisiana workers who have been killed or permanently and totally disabled in an accident compensable under a state or federal Workers' Compensation Act or law.

Each year one of every 50 Louisiana workers will be injured on the job. Some of these work accidents will result in death or permanent and total disability. Families of these individuals will face difficult challenges as they struggle to overcome the financial burden of these losses. Often a child's dream of going to college is crushed because of unexpected income loss and/or the necessity to forfeit an education for work to financially support other family members. To these children, the future can appear frightening. Already confronting difficult emotions, they often have to confront the hurdle of funding their education beyond high school.

2022-23 JUVENILE JUSTICE STORIES WRITTEN BY ELIZABETH BROWN, ATTORNEY

PATRICIA

"I'm so proud of you!" I whisper to Patricia. The bailiff announces, "All rise."

The Judge seats herself on the bench and I know I am still smiling. "Call your next case, Counsellor," she states to the District Attorney.

I wait impatiently for the case to be called and for all counsel to make their appearances. The caseworker testifies to the history of this case and how Patricia entered into the State's custody. Finally, the Judge turns to me and says, "Do you have anything to add. Counsellor?"

"Yes, Your Honor," I said. "As you know, Patricia and her infant son, Karson, came into the state's custody when she was sixteen. While, of course, it hasn't been easy for her, she was placed in an excellent foster home. The foster mom allowed Patricia the freedom to be a child on the one hand while still making her responsible for caring for her own baby. Both Patricia and Karson have thrived in this placement. Karson is now two and next week, Patricia graduates from high school with honors. She has already agreed to remain in extended foster care so that the State can pay for her college education. Her current foster family has agreed to allow both her and Karson to remain in their home until Patricia can finish school and completely support herself and her baby on her own!"

Suddenly, the court room erupts into applause. The Judge spent several minutes congratulating Patricia and the foster family for all their support. I wait until the courtroom door closes behind them before I turn to the Judge and say, "Well, that one certainly was a win!"

MICAH

"You don't understand," urgently whispered twelve-year-old Micah. He has huge liquid brown eyes and a smile that I was sure must light up the world. But he isn't smiling now. His hands shake and his eyes continually dart around the room in hyper vigilance. Or maybe not. Maybe this is his normal survival mode.

"I love my mom but she is crazy. Especially when she is high or drunk. She beats me with belts, extension cords or anything she can get her hands on. I'm the oldest so I always hide my little brother and sister until she passes out or leaves. Please, please, please tell me I don't have to go back home with her! I just can't take it anymore. I have told my family and other people how she is, but no one ever believes me. They just say I'm a spoiled kid and that's why I'm always in trouble with her" Desperation and panic roll off of Micah in waves, almost a viable presence.

"Micah," I said, as I gently placed my hand on his shoulder, "I need you to calm down, okay? I am going to go into the courtroom now and see the Judge. Can I tell the Judge what you told me? Do you want to be present in the courtroom?"

He suddenly became deadly still and stared at me. "Wait," he said as a look of wonder crossed his face. "You mean you believe me? You don't think I just made all this up?"

It almost takes my breath away to realize what this child has endured. After looking at the physical evidence that corroborates his story, all I can think about is that no child should have to live through the things he has survived. And not just survived himself, but protected his younger brother and baby sister from the worse of the abuse.

"Yes, Micah," I softly said. "I believe you. And you know what else I believe - that you are an incredibly brave boy and a great brother. "I saw tears well in his eyes. I could tell that he was thinking of his brother and sister as he squares his shoulders. Suddenly, his hands were no longer shaking as he looked me in the eye and said, "I can do this. I have to for my little brother and sister. Yes, I want to be in the courtroom, and you can tell the Judge what I told you."

2023 HORN BLOWER AWARD

Louisiana Supreme Court

The 2023 Horn Blower Award was given to the Louisiana Supreme Court in recognition of outstanding support and leadership in promoting the mission to advance the legal profession, increase public understanding of the legal system, and advance the reality of equal justice under the law by 2022-23 LBF President Alan G. Brackett. Chief Justice John L. Weimer, Justice Piper D. Griffin, and Justice James T. Genovese accepted the award on behalf of the court.

POP UP TOUR

The LBF Pop Up Tour is a comprehensive outreach initiative covering 9 regions across the state. Its primary objective is to provide valuable insights into the operational framework of the LBF, shed light on the escalating demand for civil legal aid, and how the LBF is trying to meet these needs. This tour serves as a crucial platform for fostering public understanding and engagement.

This year, in partnership with the Kids' Chance Scholarship Program and Kids' Chance Awareness Week, we invited scholarship recipients to speak on behalf of their experiences with the LBF.

FELLOW SPOTLIGHT

"In my personal and professional life, I try to live the mission of the Louisiana Bar Foundation each and every day! As the primary funder of civil legal aid, and more particularly, by providing support and representation in legal deserts such as St. Martin Parish, the LBF is a pivotal partner in improve our system of justice. The family court process could not function without the community partnerships that the LBF funds and for that reason, the LBF and its partners is an essential part of providing families with rapid resolution in these highly-emotional but vastly important cases."

Maggie Trahan Simar

"The Louisiana Bar Foundation plays an integral part of our legal system by providing the necessary means to individuals who otherwise would not be able to advance their legal action in a court of law. The Foundation further gives civil litigants the opportunity to receive equal justice and representation to all people. By supporting the Louisiana Bar Foundation, we are assisting civil litigants regardless of background the chance at getting to the podium in the courtroom."

Hon. Roger Hamilton
